CHAMBER OF COMMERCE MEETING FOR PROTEST

COUNTY ASSESSOR HOPKINS GIVES ADDRESS AND ANSWERS QUESTIONS

Members of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce and others assembled in the Chamber of Commerce building, 1011 West Broadway, Friday evening, March 10. J. W. Usilton, president of the chamber, presided, and R. M. Jackson, secretary, was present performing his accustomed duties. County Assessor Hopkins of Los Angeles being present, a motion prevailed that all business of the Chamber be dispensed with and that Mr. Hopkins be given an opportunity to explain concerning taxes and tax rates of Los Angeles county.

Mr. Hopkins made it very clear in his introductory remarks that the assessor of Los Angeles county has nothing to do with high or low taxes and that that rests entirely with the people of the various communities in which the taxes are levied. He explained that the assessable property in Glendale is $4,458,310, and that the amount of tax to be raised is $103,051.10. Of this amount $26,614.44 is used to defray the expense of the county government, and $76,436.66 is the Glendale School tax. He explained that the school fund tax is divided as follows:

Kindergarten	.09	$ 3,832.48
Common School Special	.30	12,774.93
Common School Bonds & Interest	.43	18,310.73
General County Common School	.17	7,239.12
High School Special	.47	20,014.05
High School Bonds and Interest	.19	8,090.80
General County High School	.145	6,174.55
TOTAL	1,795	$76,436.66

As the assessor has to do only with the county and school tax, the city tax is not included in the above. The property owners at large have not been required to pay any state tax since 1910 as this tax is paid by public utilities and large corporations by a special assessment so the taxpayer who complains about high state tax is uninformed upon the tax question. Mr. Hopkins answered many questions and it is to be regretted that a greater number were not present to hear his very able explanations.

On motion Mr. Hopkins was given a vote of thanks for his kindness in the presentation of this important subject before the Chamber of Commerce.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Isabel Franklin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Blake Franklin, 1498 W. Third street, celebrated her twelfth birthday yesterday by entertaining her friends at a pleasing party, which partook of the character of the St. Patrick's season. The rooms and table were decorated in green and white, with shamrocks everywhere. The young people played games and thoroughly enjoyed themselves with ice cream and cake. Those present were: Marjorie Yarick, Denise Berry, Pauline Berry, Kathryn Witt, Dorothy Van Dyke and Josephine Franklin.

The thinking mind caused the canal boat to decay in the lock while the limited express took the right way adown the tow path of progress.

MEXICAN WAR SITUATION DEEPENS

ALL DISPATCHES TO SOUTHERN REPUBLIC MUST BE WRITTEN IN PLAIN LANGUAGE SUBJECT TO CENSOR

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 11.—All Mexican dispatches are now being censored. Gen. Funston is in full charge on the border and is making rapid preparations to invade Mexico. It is expected that the first troops will start across the border by Monday. Secretary of War Baker said today: "General Funston has received his orders. He will go in as soon as he is ready." President Wilson is yachting, but keeps in wireless touch with the whole situation.

WINS TRACK EVENTS

GLENDALE HIGH SCHOOL BEATS BURBANK BY SCORE OF 88 TO 19

Glendale High School clearly outclassed Burbank High in the track meet Thursday. The final score was Glendale 88, Burbank 19. Griswold and Mair had the mile race all to themselves all the way. Griswold did not attempt to open up speed. In the half-mile Kahl of Burbank got away to a pretty start which Griswold could not overcome with his final sprint.

Beach made a fine showing, winning three firsts and making good time in all his races. Glazier, as usual, was the official dark horse. He won two seconds and a first in the low hurdles and tied for first in the high.

West, another junior all-round athlete, who is always sure of first in the pole vault, ran the high hurdles as well as the half mile. In the half he got off the track, however, and started around the Manual Arts building.

Bill Renshaw had an off day Thursday. He lost to Harry Glazier in the low hurdles and was disqualified in the high by knocking down the first hurdle.

In the 440 as Burbank had no entries Coach Wight thought it unnecessary to run Seay, who won first place in that event in the interclass meet. This may have been a good thing for Seay, who seemed to have an off day, while Rosa was running in first-class form.

The relay race was cut out on account of darkness.

FINAL RESULTS

Mile run—Griswold, G., first; Mair, G., second; Britton, B., third; 6:02 2-5.

50 yd. dash—Beach, G., first; Glazier, G., second; Pomeroy, B., third. Time: .05 4-5 seconds.

100 yd. dash—Beach, G., first; Glazier, G., second; Pomeroy, B., third. Time: 10 3-5 seconds.

Pole vault—Burbank forfeited all three places to Glendale.

Shot put—Lukens, G., first; Sheriger, G., second; Scholes, G., third. Distance: 37 ft. 6 1/2 in.

Low hurdles—Glazier, G., first; Renshaw, G., second; Stokes, G., third. Time: 29 3-5 seconds.

440 yd. dash—Burbank had no entries. Rosa first, Wilson second. Dopp third; :61 3-5 seconds.

High jump—The Burbank entries were beaten by Hagin, Wilson, Griswold and Stokes of Glendale, who did not jump for places.

220 yd. dash—Beach, G., first; Pomeroy, B., second; Weaver, G., third. Time: 23 3-5 seconds.

880 yd. run—Kahl, B., first; Griswold, G., second; Shea, G., third. Time: 2:22 2-5.

Broad jump—Renshaw, G., first; Griswold, G., 2nd; Rosa, G., third.

Burbank forfeited the Relay, but Glendale did not count the points.

MERCHANTS ARE EASY MARKS

As conditions exist at present the business man or merchant is considered an easy mark by the solicitor of program and booklet advertising. In many instances the home merchant is prevailed upon to take advertising in a booklet at exorbitant prices and the printing is given to Los Angeles shops, which of course results in taking business away from Glendale.

Every business firm counts upon paying out about so much every year for publicity, and whatever is paid out for these side issues takes away from the local newspaper advertising, which it greatly needs in its efforts to give wide publicity to the affairs of the community. Every additional advertisement in The Evening News conveys to the public with just a little more emphasis that Glendale is a public spirited city. The business enterprise and life of a city is judged by the appearance of the local paper. This being true every citizen of local pride should boast the local daily paper.

JULIUS KRANZ' NEW SONGS

Julius Kranz, the rising young violinist and composer of Glendale, has just completed two new soprano songs, "The Zephyr" and "To Daffodil." Both songs are attracting much attention in musical circles. Mr. Kranz is making arrangements to have these songs presented in public by leading sopranos. He is also writing another soprano song with violin obligato. At recent musicales in Los Angeles Mr. Kranz played his own set of three violin compositions, "Chanson Tarantelle," "Legende" and "Bergeruse," with great acceptance.

WEATHER FORECAST—Fair tonight and Sunday; continued warm; northeast winds.

TRIBUTE TO TROY

DEPARTURE OF BAPTIST PASTOR FROM CITY GIVES RISE TO REGRETS

Many of the faithful congregation of the First Baptist church of Glendale are regretting the departure of their late pastor, the Rev. John Troy, who has gone to New York to take up special work on the religious teaching platform. Mr. Troy and his family left Los Angeles Friday morning, March 10. One of the members of the congregation sends the following communication to the Glendale Evening News:

"During the past few weeks Mr. Troy and his family have been tendered reception after reception. The feelings of regret at the pastor's resolve to take up other religious work than that of a parish has been the cause of keen regret to his people, who remember his effective work in the pulpit. The homes of Mr. Troy's numerous friends in the congregation have been thrown open to him, his family and his friends and there has been an outpouring of the spirit of Christian friendliness that has been very gratifying to all.

"These many receptions culminated in a grand reception in the church parlors, where all enjoyed a love feast with music, refreshments and intellectual treats with many toasts in honor of the pastor and Mrs. Troy.

"Many at this gathering expressed the general sentiment that the decision of the Rev. John Troy to leave Glendale would create a void in the hearts and affections of his numerous friends here, where he had endeared himself to all by his public spirit; his interest in civic welfare and his work for the kingdom of God. It was also agreed that the First Baptist church of Glendale would find it difficult to get a man to fill the many capacities in which Mr. Troy acted.

"During Mr. Troy's incumbency the First Baptist church has been built up in knowledge. The spirit of grace and of a sound mind has been manifest. God's word of truth has been rightly divided and the gospel has been preached freely and courageously to the convincing and converting of both Jew and Gentile.

"As far as personality is concerned Mr. Troy has been greatly beloved by all. His strength of character has been manifest in his standing for and teaching not man-made creeds but God's Holy Word. By following this line of Christian conduct he has built up the church until it is able to stand on its own feet against all assaults of evil."

EX-MAYOR ROSE IN COURT

Quite an array of legal talent adorned Judge Miller's court in Glendale Friday, March 10, in the case of C. W. Pendleton vs. Jos. Dietl and Mary Dietl. The defendants were ably defended by a local attorney, James F. McBryde.

Some time ago Mr. Dietl was arraigned in the case of People vs. Dietl on a charge of having operated an alleged blind pig. In this case Mr. Pendleton represented the defendants. As a result of that case the plaintiff sued defendants for $140.00, alleged to be an agreed attorney's fees. Ex-Mayor H. H. Rose of Los Angeles, predecessor of Sebastian, represented the plaintiff.

One of the instances brought out by the defendant caused much merriment in the court when it was claimed that friends of plaintiff advised the defendant to retain Mr. Pendleton as an attorney in the original case because "he could get him for $10.00, and the beauty of it was that he was a cheap guy," and as the defendant only had $10.00 he was looking for a cheap attorney. The question hinged upon whether there was an agreement to pay the attorney's fee of $10.00 or $150.00.

Claire Woolwine of the District Attorney's office and several other attorneys appeared as witnesses.

Judgment was rendered the plaintiff in the sum of $40.00 and costs, from which the plaintiff will appeal to the Superior Court. Mr. McBryde, the attorney for the defendants, expressed confidence that he will win the appeal for the defendants.

ANCIENT WALKING CANE

Mr. Charles Mallet of 339 E. Second street, recently received from Stratford, Conn., a walking cane made from part of the timber of the old Episcopal church in that city. The cane is made from a piece of excellent oak, which must have formed part of a pew or some other of the interior finish of the church. It still shows the marks of three nail holes. Mr. Mallet's people came from England to Stratford, Conn., some time before the old Episcopal church was built in 1636.

MEXICAN RAID ON UNITED STATES

"There is," says Koheleth, the preacher, "a time to be silent and a time to speak; a time of war and a time of peace." It would appear that the time to speak in the affairs of Mexico has come and that the days of peace are temporarily over as far as the Mexican raiders are concerned. Doubtless there is some exaggeration in stories that reach this country from the border; but the exaggeration in particular cases is more than offset by the reality in others.

There is no exaggeration in the story of the raid on Columbus, N. M., There is the ghastly tale of the dead; the list of burned houses, murdered women and children; of women whose husbands were taken out and shot before their eyes; of things worse than death. These things have been going on for more than three years; going on ever since the Mexicans took it into their heads that the United States would make no effort to defend its citizens.

So strongly rooted has this idea come to be in the minds of the Mexicans that their ragged bandits have marched boldly up to and over the frontier and insulted United States troops in a manner gross enough to create resentment in the heart of a dove. Through those three years nothing has been done to protect American interests in Mexico and United States citizens to the number of several hundreds have been slain while American property to the value of several hundred millions has been destroyed.

The culminating insult, however, has been this invasion of United States territory by Gen. Villa and his freebooters. The attack on Columbus was fortunately repulsed, though not without slaughter on both sides. "Unpreparedness" is having its demonstration on the border. Time was when Americans thrilled to the heart as one when the vital interests of the country were threatened; yet so indifferent has the attitude of the government been of late to those interests that even the tatterdemalion ragamuffins of Mexico have boldly ventured to violate American territory and murder its citizens.

It is not conceivable that such conditions can be tolerated longer. No policy of watchful waiting can exist in the face of the facts in Columbus, New Mexico. The United States government may now be counted on to act and the country at large will have nothing but praise and approval for Col. Slocum, who followed the bandits across the border without orders.

NEW ALASKAN TRANSPORTATION

Alaska was the first part of the United States to have a wireless telegraph service. Long before any commercial use was made of this means of communication a wireless service was installed between St. Michael and Nome,—a distance of more than 400 miles. This wireless service worked well from the beginning, and is working to the present day. Now Alaska is to have one of the first aeroplane mail services in the country. This will probably also be the fastest mail service in the world.

Dog teams used to convey mail from Fairbanks to Nome, going down the Yukon valley and taking about thirty days for the trip, which included the 400 miles traversed by horse sled between Valdez and Fairbanks. Dog teams will still be used in Alaska but not for the mail service. The old Yukon river barges will find their occupation as mail carriers gone. The old trail musher will look for a government contract in vain. The latest type of planes will be used capable of carrying 3000-ton loads, at more than express train speed.

The greatest difficulty anticipated in this service is that of finding suitable landing places, though that will not be so difficult when the snow has packed down hard. Another difficulty will be the fact that the aviator will have to face temperatures as low as 60 below. These difficulties however will be overcome. To get machines that will carry 3000 pounds of mail and parcel post matter will be more difficult. They have such machines in Europe at present. War has produced them but America with her peace demands has made little or no effect on aeroplane development.

It is expected that the main air route in Alaska will follow the old trail from Valdez to Fairbanks but in a straight line, a distance of 358 miles. Thence it will be possible to make the journey to Nome by stages. It can easily be seen that the use of the aeroplane has a vast development before it and that there are other possibilities in the way of getting in and out to rich gold deposits that are known to exist in the heart of Alaska and to bring supplies to distant camps and help to stranded expeditions in the far north.

TEXAS LEAP YEAR CLUB

There will be few lone stars in the galaxy of bachelordom in the Lone Star state by the close of 1916 if the Dallas society girls' Leap Year club has its way. No more need the bashful swain of Texan high toned circles be seized with a trembling of the knees and a faltering of the tongue as he essays to pour forth his newly found affection to some dainty maid of the prairies. He will be saved all the embarrassment of the operation of "popping the question." The question will be brought to him ready popped in any one of the fifty-seven varieties.

There will be a vast saving in male nether attire this season as the enamored swain need no longer "fall on his knees" as he blubbers out the fateful question, "Will you be mine?" No more need the budding youth make mad attempts to swallow his cane as he stammers over the magic formula he has in vain striven to commit to memory:

"To thee my love be now confessed;
 I hold thee to my throbbing breast."

The whole art of courtship will be arranged in a more artistic fashion than that now that the ladies have taken it in hand. The new club consists of some of the prettiest society girls who declare that they don't intend to go to dances, or theatres or to the marriage license bureau with men simply because they happen to ask them—when they would rather go with some one else.

The new organization recently gave a leap year dance; sent out the invitations, made the dates, sent the flowers to the young men, called for them in automobiles, escorted them to one of the country clubs, filled the programs and then took the wondering males home again. Each member of the club has pledged herself to get engaged before the year runs out. No member will get engaged to any man except at her own request.

It is said that since the inauguration of the club the eligible males of Dallas are to be seen warily avoiding secluded corners and shunning all opportunities for a conversation "a deux." Some have even gone the length of taking trips to other parts of the United States where they think they will be safe. In this they show wisdom; for when a girl makes up her mind to marry a man, like Davy Crockett's coon he might just as well "come down at once."

WALTER SCOTT'S SCHOOLDAYS

Sir Walter Scott lived in Edinburgh as a boy, though much of his time was spent at Sandyknowe, his grandfather's farm near Melrose. Here he enjoyed playing near the old town of Smailholme, making friends with the lambs who browsed there. The boy would stay there contentedly for hours, dreaming dreams and telling himself stories.

After spending some time at Sandyknowe, Walter Scott was taken on a journey to Bath, England; the party went by boat to London. Here they saw all the sights, and Scott never forgot all that he saw there—the Tower, the houses of Parliament, Westminster Abbey, and a great deal besides. At Bath he went to see his first play, Shakespeare's "As You Like It." All these experiences made a deep impression upon the boy, who never forgot anything that he had heard or seen.

When he returned to Edinburgh his parents thought it time for him to go to school, so they sent Walter to the High School. Though he had picked up a surprising amount of general information for a boy of six, there were certain subjects which he had not studied at all. He knew many a line of poetry and history, but never had he studied the Latin grammar which was considered so important. Scott himself tells us that he cut "a brighter figure in the yards than in the class." His place was often just midway of the class, and usually he did not mind this; but, once when he had a desire to gain the highest place, he played a trick upon one of his classmates of which he was ashamed in after years.

A boy who sat at the head of Walter's division of the class had kept his place for days and days, never failing to answer the master's most difficult questions, and never giving Walter a chance to move to the top. One day Walter noticed that whenever the invincible leader stood up to recite he fumbled with a particular button on his waistcoat. Waiter slyly cut off the helpful button, and waited eagerly to see what would happen. When the boy's turn came, he stood up, felt for the button as usual, and missing it, stammered and sat down. Walter answered the question and took the coveted place at the head.

Lord Cockburn, who entered the Edinburgh High School a few years later than Scott, has given us a description of the dress of the schoolboys of that time. He writes:

"I often think I see myself in my usual high school apparel, which was the common dress hat; a shirt fastened at the neck by a black ribbon, and except on dress days, unbuttoned; a cloth waistcoat, rather large, with two rows of buttons and of buttonholes, so that it could be buttoned on either side, which, when one side got dirty, was convenient; a single-breasted jacket, which in due time got a tail and became a coat; brown corduroy breeches, tied at the knees by a showy knot of brown tape; worsted stockings in winter, and white cotton for dress; clumsy shoes made to be used on either foot, and each requiring to be used on alternate feet daily; brass or copper buckles. The coat and waistcoat were always of glaring colors, such as bright blue, grass green, and scarlet. I remember well the pride with which I was once rigged out in a scarlet waistcoat and a bright green coat."

Farmer boys are trained in the school of poverty for the counting house of fame.

GLENDALE FOOTHILLS

David F. Taber, 1432 Arden avenue, is very ill at this writing.

A special Sunday chicken dinner will be served at the La Ramada tomorrow for 50 cents a plate.

When the regular monthly meeting of the Verdugo Reservoir & Pipe company was opened, Monday morning, there was no quorum present so the old board was continued in office until their successors may be appointed. David Black is president, Daniel Fuller, secretary; James Connor, Walter S. Sanders and S. N. Dutcher, directors.

Daniel Fuller is having the lemon crop on his ranch picked. Two officials from the California Fruitgrowers' Exchange are overseeing the work. Mr. C. D. Hubbard of the Hubbard Fruit company of Carpinteria, Cal., the representative of the purchasers of the crop, and Mr. Milliken, field man of the Semi-Tropic Fruit Exchange of Los Angeles, are the officials in question. They watch the pickers carefully and try to give the eastern purchaser a show for his money.

"This care," said Mr. Milliken, "reacts to the benefit of the California growers. The eastern buyers find out when they can rely on the packing of an exchange and know that when our imprimatur is on a box its contents are what they are represented to be. These lemons are all picked with the ring. The lemons are picked every month and to have them right they must pack 300 to 360 in a box. Anything more means a deduction from the price as lemons are sold by the dozen."

"The California Fruit Growers' Exchange handles two-thirds of all the citrus fruit grown in California and 85 per cent of all the lemons. The association is anxious to see that the fruit is handled right—the stems must be cut off at the right point; graded right—the lemons must fit the ring neither more nor less; and they must be packed right."

Mrs. C. D. Hubbard of Carpinteria was a guest of Mrs. James Connor of Kenneth road, for luncheon, Friday.

Mr. Stoner and Mr. Tom McMann, oil men of Taft, Cal., were guests at the Connor ranch, Kenneth road, Friday afternoon.

TROPICO

Chapter A. H. of the P. E. O. sisterhood was entertained at the home of Mrs. John Hobbs on North Central avenue, Friday afternoon.

A special program will be given at the Bijou theater Friday evening, when the Tropic ball team will present a St. Patrick's program. All numbers on the program will be Irish; the films will represent Irish scenes and comedies, there will be Irish melodies; Harry Hayward and Olin Bradford will give an Irish skit, and a large number of the audience will be Irish, and all who attend will have a delightful evening. The ball team always give delightful entertainments.

As the guests of Mrs. Harrison M. Stroud and Miss Fanny Stroud of Los Angeles, Mrs. David H. Imler, Miss Cora Hickman and Miss Marjorie Imler motored to El Monte today, where they were the guests of Mrs. Fanny Sawyer Quinn, later going to Puenta for a brief visit to Mrs. William Malcom.

Mrs. Frank I. Marsh entertained at luncheon today at her home on North Central avenue, when her guests were Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Davis and daughter, Miss Mildred Davis of Altadena.

Mrs. James R. Maxwell, who has been quite ill at her home, is somewhat improved and with these warm days and delightful sunshine will soon be entirely recovered.

Mrs. W. F. Ludlum, who with her family recently moved to Colegrove, was a visitor in Tropic yesterday, being accompanied by her three small daughters.

James R. Maxwell of West Park avenue has returned from a few days' visit to Ontario.

Miss Adele Richardson of Santa Paula was a recent visitor at the home of her brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Frederic C. Richardson, 124 N. Central avenue.

The Tropic Thursday club presented the program at the Bijou theater last night and a number of the club members and their families were present. The films which had been selected by Miss Ida Myers, Mrs. J. Herbert Smith, Mrs. Charles H. Phillips and Mrs. Harry F. Goodwin, were especially pleasing.

A goodly number of the patrons and friends of the Park avenue Parent-Teacher association attended the regular monthly meeting, which was held Friday afternoon in the assembly room of the school. Miss Hill presided in the absence of the president, Miss Kinley. It was decided that this association accept the invitation of the Cerritos P. T. A. and attend the regular monthly meeting March 23 and listen to an address by Mrs. Ella Flagg Young of Chicago.

Many pleasing selections were rendered on the Victrola, which Mrs. Charles had loaned for the occasion. Miss Cora Hickman gave a talk on the co-operation of parent and teacher in the successful education of the child.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LECTURE

B., of Syracuse, New York, member of the Board of Lectureship of the mother church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, at the High School auditorium, Fifth and Louise streets, on Sunday, the 12th of March, 1916, at 3:00 p.m.

FIRST M. E. BARACAS

The Baraca class of the First M. E. church during the past two weeks has won the banner given to the class having the largest percentage of members present. Mr. H. S. Clewett will give a missionary address before the class Sunday morning, March 13, beginning 10:15 a.m. Every member is expected to be present and to stay during preaching service. The slogan for Sunday morning is "Every member of the church in the Sunday School and every member of the Sunday School in the church."

MANY NEW RIFLE CLUBS

The spring tournament of the Massachusetts Association of the National Rifle Association begins here today with special matches at the Bay State School of Musketry's new ranges. The matches will continue for seven or eight weeks, and with the increasing number of clubs joining the association, promises to produce some hard fought contests. Massachusetts has had a revival of rifle clubs this year, because of the preparedness spirit which has swept the state. Hundreds of new clubs have been formed, and plenty of trophies have been offered for the marksmen. Special interest is shown in the individual matches held at the new ranges on Gainsborough street, Boston, and a table of figures kept by Major Portal, who has been one of the leading factors in the newly popular sport, shows that the standard of efficiency has been greatly increased. The department stores of Boston have taken up the rifle club idea and nearly all have teams made up from among their employees. Col-
